

TEETH AND SMILES: Dental practice award

Staff at Woodford House dental practice pick up their award at a ceremony in Cafe Royal, Central London

PROUD staff members at a renowned dental practice are celebrating after picking up a top national award.

Woodford House dental practice in Woodford Green has been looking after the teeth and gums of hundreds of Redbridge patients over the years, but has finally been recognised for the service it provides.

The practice in Woodford High Road, beat off competition from 300 other hopefuls to win Best for Patient Care, at the Private Dentistry Awards.

Delighted practice manager, Moona Malik, said: "We are delighted that the attention we pay to the care of our patients has been recognised with this award.

"Our patients are at the centre of everything that we do and we want them to enjoy the time that they spend with us."

A spokesman for the practice added: "It really illustrates Woodford House dental practice's commitment to the welfare of local patients."

The winners were picked by a panel of judges, made up of members of the Private Dentistry editorial board, along with representatives from previous winning dental practices.
